Apple Valley High School
Apple Valley, Minnesota
Volume II

Every institution exhibits a wide range and variety of emotions. Joy, sorrow, love, silliness, despair, happiness are all a part of growing. As AVHS grows and spreads its effect and influence, the individual student also grows. The AERIE is the chronicler of that growth. Welcome to 1978!

STUDENT LIFE STUDENT I

FE STUDENT LIFE STUDEN

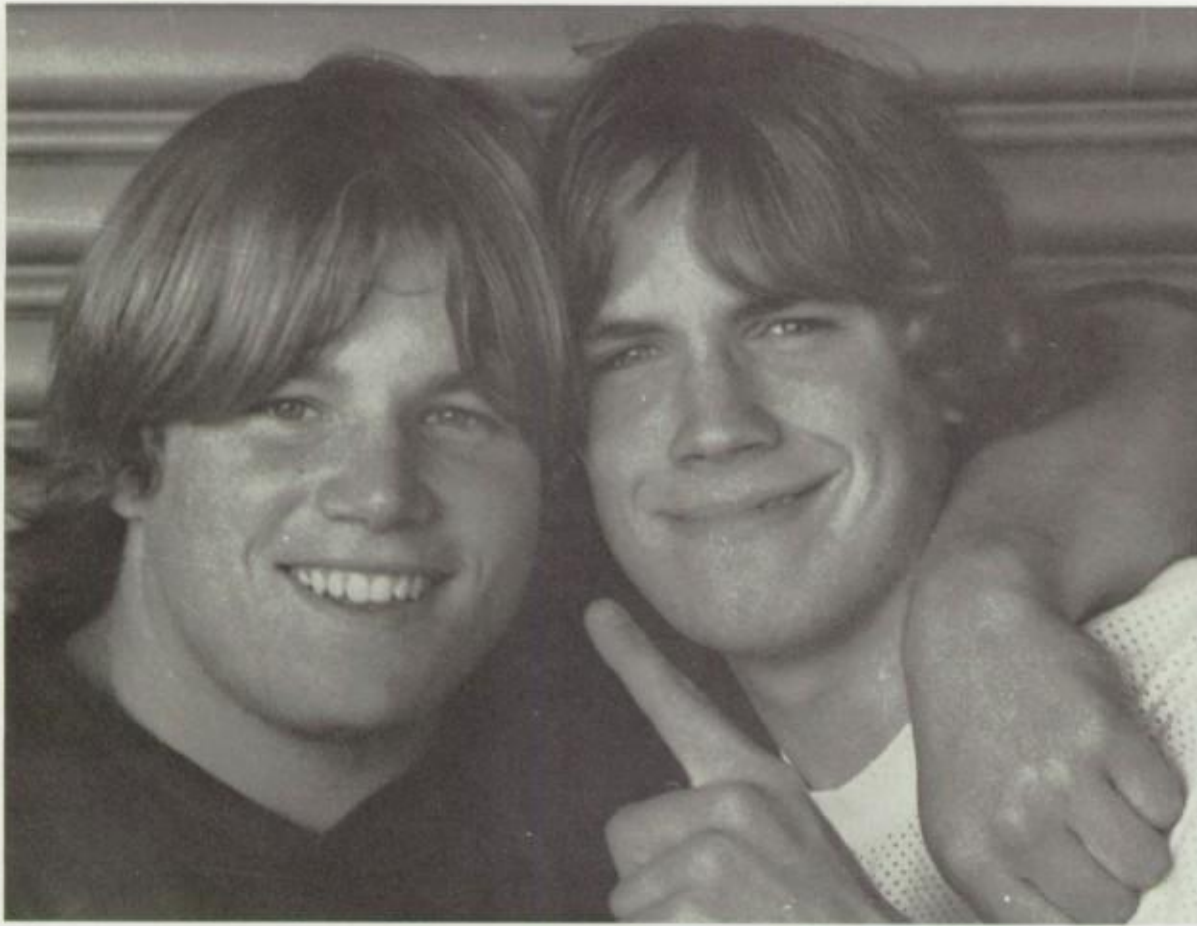

Aerie Student Life

Students are what make a school go round and the life style of these students make high school years memorable.

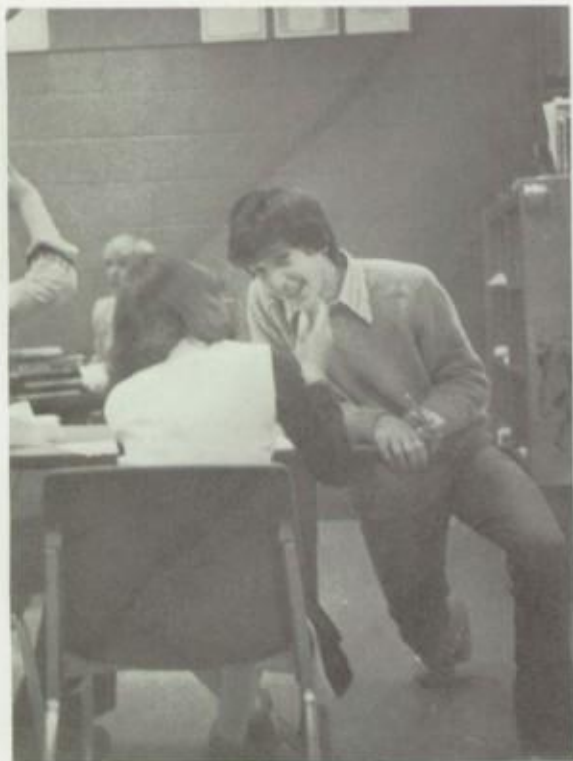

One part of a student's lifestyle is the moods, and the emotions he expresses. These can range from fear and uncertainty, to anger, to boredom, to disappointment, or to elation and happiness. All these moods play an important part in the functioning of AVHS, and its students.

Studious

Studiousness is one of the various moods of AVHS students. By applying their minds AVHS students can acquire much knowledge through investigation and examination, questioning, and discussion, reading and writing, reflecting and observation, and through analysis. After all, school is an institution of learning and our educations are indeed enhanced by the many fine facilities we have in our reach; our fine library, teaching staff, and books plus equipment can be utilized to strengthen ourselves, and our world.

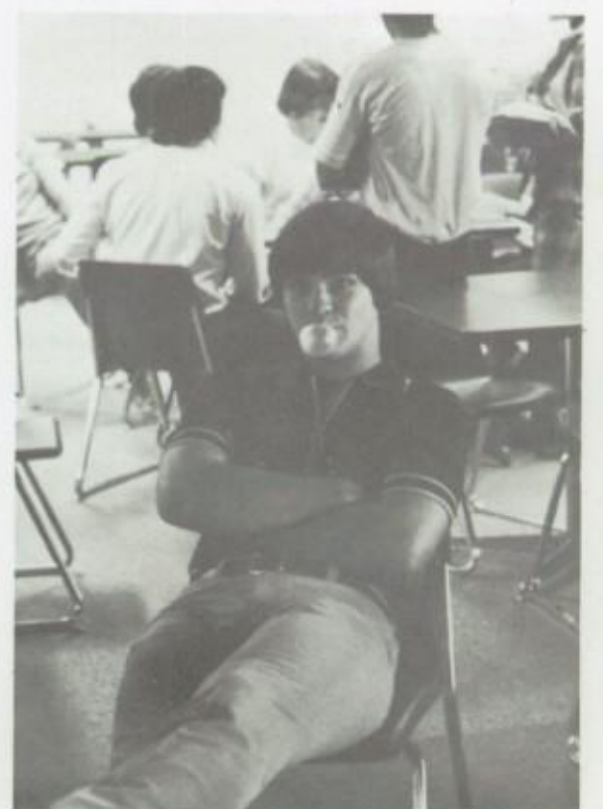

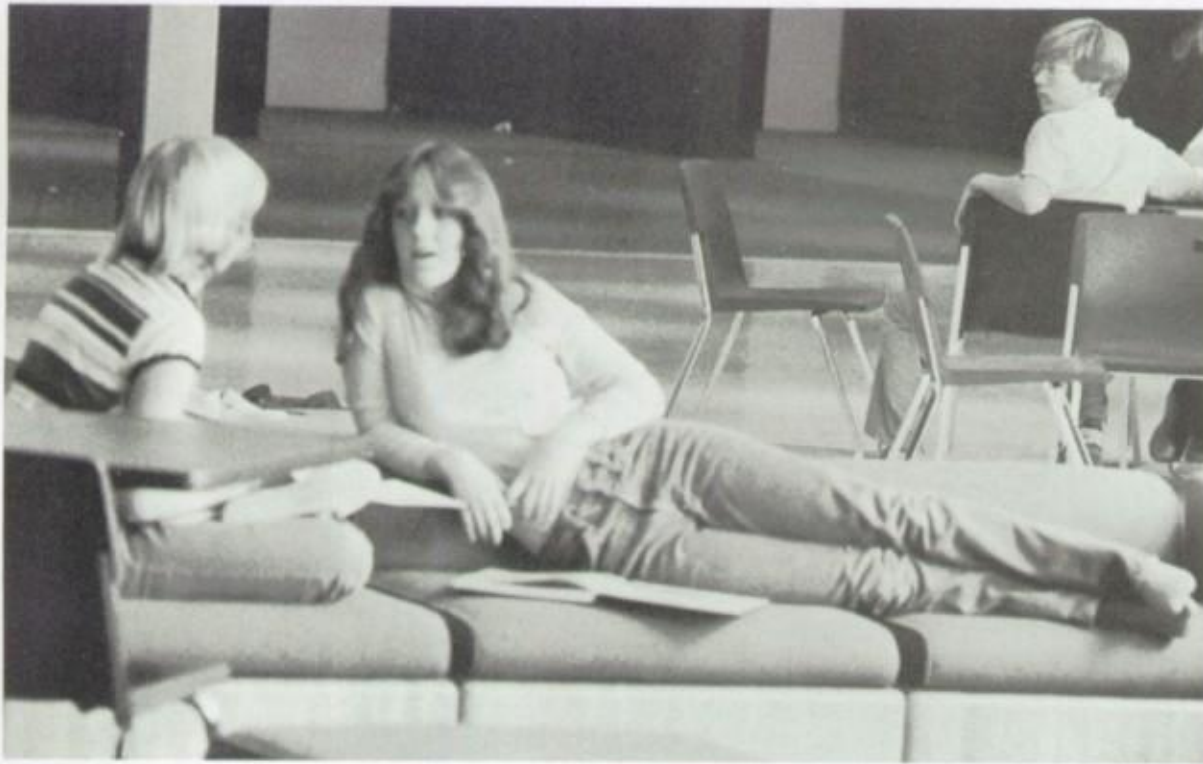

Relaxed

Relaxed is a mood that is enjoyed by everyone. It is a time to escape from pressure duty, and responsibility and to seek rest. It is a time for taking it easy and being comfortable. Favorite places are relaxing at AVHS are; the student center, the magazine level of the library the band room, the courtyard, and especially the bright green and orange cushions in the main hall.

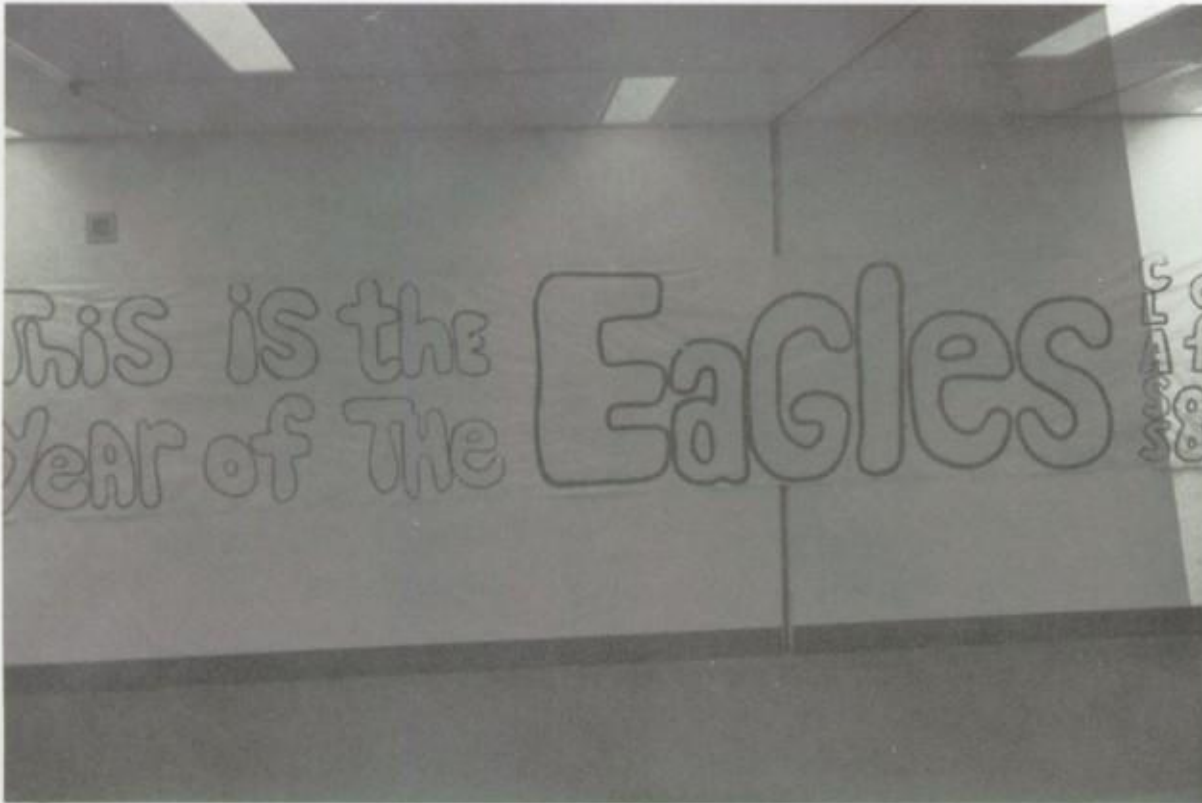

Active

AVHS students are very active. They are full of life, vigor and always in motion. Some students are active in sports; others in the arts; others in speech; and still others are active in just fooling around. However, all the activities of AVHS students help to make high school fun, and exciting.

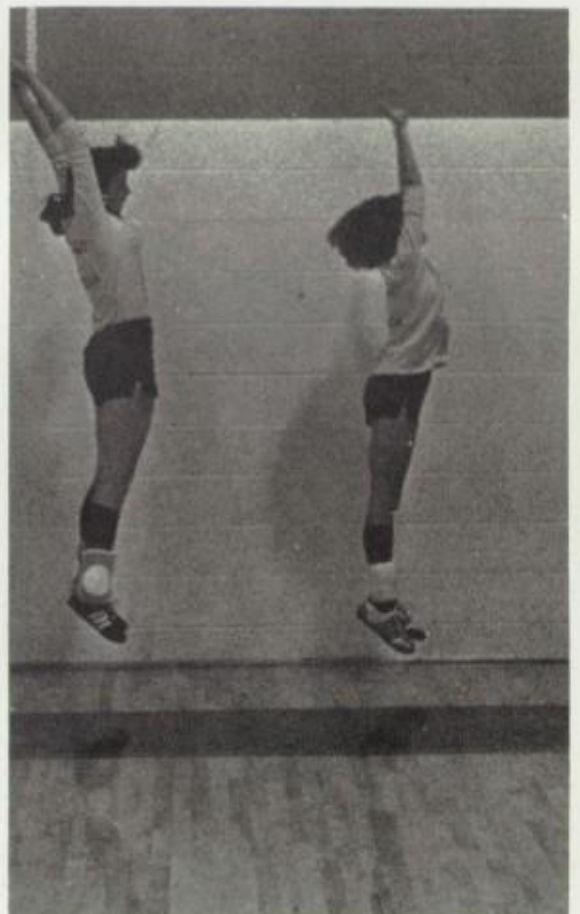

Spirited

Cheering at athletic events, becoming involved in activities, and being proud of AVHS are all part of being spirited. Spirit is not liquor or a ghost but it is being lively, animated, vivacious, and full of energy and enthusiasm. This is a mood displayed often by all AVHS students.

Y'all Come Back Naw Ya Hear! -

A Southerner's Communication Problems.

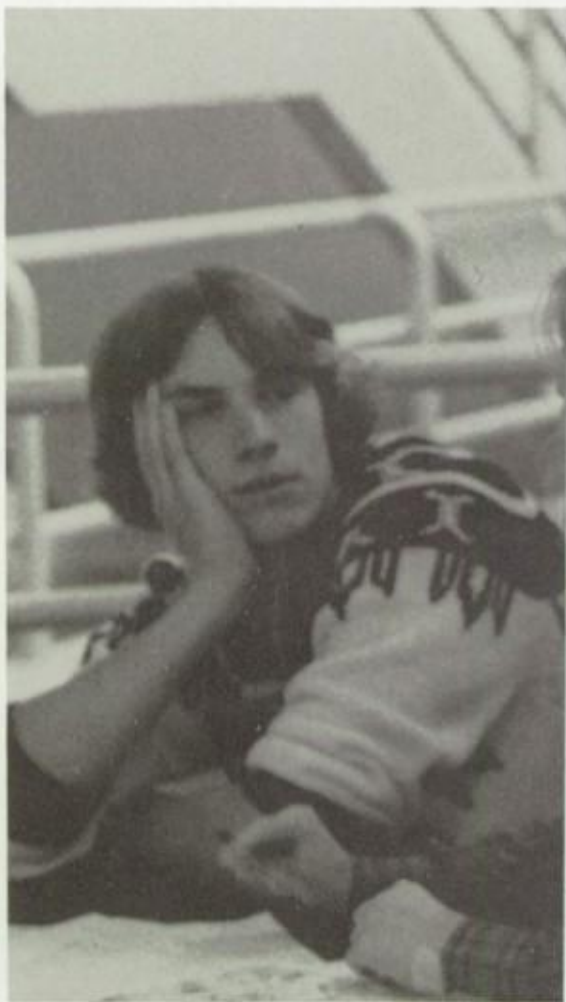

After movin' to Apple Valley from a small Texas hick-town, I received a lotta flack about the way I talked. Everyday, Julie Rentz would approach me in the hall and then ask me to say, "How now brown cow?" Thinking it best to humour the poor girl, I obliged her, and inevitably found her rolling on the ground with laughter. And then of course there were the casual acquaintances who tried to mimic me every time they saw me, but instead of sounding "Southern", they more often sounded like northerners with bad colds.

Well, all you Minnesotans out there, listen, cause I'm here to tell ya that y'all just DON'T understand "good" English! Just the other day, I went to ask a janitor for a "whale-barah". Would you believe it took me twenty minutes to describe what I wanted. Finally, he said, "Oh, a Wheelbarrow!" "Why didn't ya say so in the first place, boy? By the time I finally got the darn thing I had completely forgotten about what I needed it for. And then, how can I forget 2nd hour reading class, where we all got to read aloud to the rest of the class. It seems that every other sentence that I would read, the teacher would say "Say What?"

All I can say now is that even though when I first moved here just tryin' to talk to someone here would give me a headache that even Excedrin couldn't cure, but its gettin' better and better all the time.

Homecoming 1977

"Will I be nominated for Royalty?" "Who will I go to the dance with?" The dance and coronation were only part of the fun and excitement involved in the 1977 Apple Valley Homecoming. Other events like Powder Puff football kept the girls on their toes and the boys' eyes open. And then of course, there was Button Day. People looked in place they didn't have places for buttons to wear on this very special day.

Why all the fuss? Spirit would be the probable answer. Spirit was running high this year because of the special quality of this year's Homecoming festivities. This was the first year that Apple Valley has had a group of returning Alumni for the Homecoming game. And according to A.V.'s victory over the Blake Bears, it seems as though the extra spirit paid off.

50's Day

AVHS became the sight of poodle skirts, saddle shoes, pony tails, leather jackets, and greased hair on 50's day. The occasion was sponsored by the AVairs and was highlighted by a pepfest including a bubble gum blowing contest and a licorice eating contest. There was also a visit from Wally Cleaver and short people. The event was topped off by a "neato" sock-hop during which all the "Betty Lou"s and their partners twisted and bunny-hopped. It was a fun-filled look at the 50's!

Carnival - Love Makes The World Go Round

The Drama Department started off with a bang this year with the opening of it's Fall Musical, "CARNIVAL". "CARNIVAL" is the story of a young woman, Lili, and her life at a broken down carnival after her arrival there. Through song and dance the story tells of how the carnival grows, and of how Lili grows from a naive, young girl to a young woman who is aware that life is not always easy and carefree. It is a love story and at the same time, a life story; a story that tells of life's problems and it's answers to them.

Anybody who knows the director, Dennis Swanson, knows of the work that the actors, singers, dancers and even orchestra members had to put forth, just so they could say "I was in "CARNIVAL".

One Act Play

The one-act play, The Little Foxes by Lillian Helman is a classic short play of a southern family torn by conflict and dissension. Directed by Beth Torstenson, the play took third in sub-region. Characters were played by Michelle Keeton, Karen Shickell, Julie Meyer, Keith Svensen, Dave Kappus, and Dick McMasters. Student directors were Sue Lach and Bryan Pierce.

Snofest

Snofest was one of the highlights of the year, even if we had rain instead of snow. Many things were cancelled, such as the broomball tournament, but yet, other events were still held with help of a little bit of work. One of these events was the snow sculpture contest, snow had to be imported. The theme of snofest this year was "Winter Dreams" and many of the contests were centered around it. To climax the activities was the snofest pepfest, including the crowning of the royalty. The King and Queen of 1978 were Tom Schramer and Shelley Keeton.

Thieves' Carnival

"Thieves' Carnival", the winter dramatic production was one of the accomplishments that give Apple Valley such a fine name. The play, directed by Polly Reikowski, was the story of three con men during the turn of the century. The professional con men (Mike Cooper and Doug Hutchinson) and their apprentice, portrayed by Richard Whybrew tried to rob the home of a wealthy family that lived in the neighborhood where they operated.

Clockwise, starting from the top:
The townspeople meeting in the park where the con men operate.

Broadway '78

Broadway '78 was a fantastic program directed by Mr. Kimpton, Mr. Inglebrison, and Ms. McDonough. This was a remarkable combination of song and dance performed by select members of the AVaires, jazz band and the pop group. Everyone is looking forward to a magnificent performance next year.

Follies On Tour

"On Tour" was the theme of this year's Ice Follies show. The program, directed by Carol LeClaire, carried the audience from Old Mexico to the Orient; from the icy mountains of Switzerland to the American West. Just like the year before, the show was great and left the audience looking forward to next year's show.

The drame department created another smash production,
"Don't Drink the Water," written by Woody Allen. This zany comedy is the story of an American family trapped in the United States Embassy behind the iron curtain. The family, portrayed by Doug Hutchinson,
Sue Lehmann, and Shelly Keeton, are accused by the Communist police of spying, so they seek refugee in the Embassy building. Kurt Blumberg portrayed Alex, the son of the Ambassador.

 The musicians at the party calmly play as Walter and Marion try to hide from the Communist police.

Prom

Prom is always a special occasion and this year was no exception. The theme was "Poems, Prayers, and Promises" and it was held at the beautiful Marriot Inn. The night consisted of a delicious meal of veal or prime ribs, entertainment provided by Julie Rentz and Lori Champion, the Grand March announced by Audrey Pacholski and Dean Solinger, and dancing to the great music of Whittacker Jack. It was a night full of fun and memories for everyone.

Variety Show

The annual variety show is the one stage presentation that allows the individual student to show off some of his own skill and talent. Acts range from the ridiculous to the sublime, but the fun of the show is the greatest reward.

The Apple Valley Choir Department is made up of 106 eager individuals. They divide into two main groups; the Concert Choir and the Varsity Choir. There is also the Valley Minstrels which is a smaller choir containing selected members of the Concert Choir.

The choirs provide the school with a variety of entertainment throughout the year. Some of there entertainment includes the annual winter and spring concerts, state singing competition, concert festivals, and graduation. The choir is constantly at work preparing beautiful music for the school. So next time you see a choir member give them a hand thank them for all there great help and tremendous effort.

The Apple Valley High School's band department is made up of 120 individuals and several different groups coming from two main groups. These groups are the Concert Band and the Varsity Band. Throughout the year these bands are always busy, never a dull moment to be found.

The two bands provide our school with a variety of entertainment from there annual winter and spring concerts, to pep events, to graduation after school is out for the summer.

The Marching Band is made up of the two bands put together. All of these students march in parades and every home football game. They spend much of there summer slaving to learn new routines for each show.

There is the pep band that plays at all winter sports providing music for all to hear. There are many other groups as well; these include the Jazz Band and the Wind Ensemble. The bands perform many times during the year, for contests, concerts and many other things.

These are but a few of the things the Band Department has to offer. Wether the year is just beginning or finished the band is always hard at work for the school's betterment.

Photo Club

The Photo Club, one of the new traditions of AVHS, has added alot to the school. The group holds meetings, conducted by Mr. Rob Lonning, explaining the use of the camera and darkroom. In the end each member learns how to develop pictures and how to distinguish good photographs from bad. The members sponser the annual AVHS photo contest, awarding prizes to the top winners. The club promises to add alot to the school's pride.

AVaires

The AVaires are a precision danceline that perform at many school functions. This year they displayed the result of many hours of hard work at the half-time shows of football and basketball games, at the pepfests and for the audience of Broadway '78. To climax the AVaire season they participated in state competition, helping to spread the AVHS pride.

Health Careers

Health Careers Club, advised by Nurse Thibido, explores the different job opportunities offered to post graduate students. They, also, plan and sponser the bloodmobile annually. A new tradition for the AVHS students.

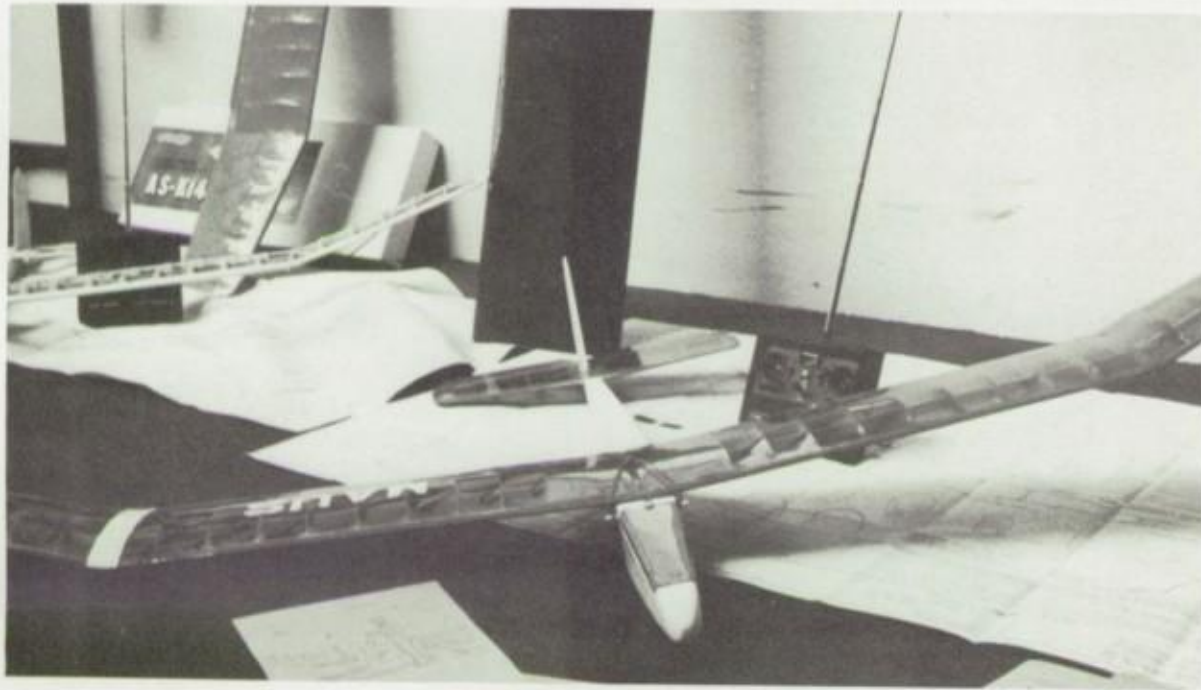

Health Careers Club: Laurie Spencer, Julie Scott, Sue Dick, Annette Spencer, Mrs. Thibido, Keri Miller, Beth Johnson, Brenda Sangren.

Model Airplane Club

The model airplane club is one of the new organizations developed at AVHS this year. Started by Mr. Bob Knodt it has become a group that is very involved in their interests and it promises to have a great future.

Below: Some members of the Model Airplane Club.
To the left: A few of the achievements of the members.

Chess

The Chess Club and Team attempts to help the students learn some of the finer points of the game of chess and to participate in interscholastic chess competition. The team competes in a double round robin conference schedule and in a post-season tournament. Along with team records, individual performances are noted and recognized. Team trophies and individual medals are awarded to outstanding teams and individuals.

It is hoped that this will encourage students to participate in chess which can be a lifelong activity.

Infospecs

Infospecs stands for "Information Specialists." Not only do they usher at plays, concerts, and recitals but this group of volunteers serve as ushers, concessionaires, guides, security guards, hosts, and all around helpers. Their motto is "I Help" and their help is much needed and very valuable to the functioning of our school and theater.

Ambassador's Club

The Ambassadors' Club promotes better understanding between European cultures (namely French, German, and Spanish) and our own. They meet often throughout the year and sample parts of European culture (cooking, holiday customs, etc.), and this year a lot of students went to France, Germany, or Spain.

Newspaper

This year's Newspaper staff, under the guidance of Mr. Mandli, consistently provided our student body with quality reading geared to the diverse interests of our students. Sue Pampuch did a fine as the Editor-in-Chief. Other editors were: Marshel Johnson, Tami Smith, Janis Thorberg, and Lynett Yohn.

DECA

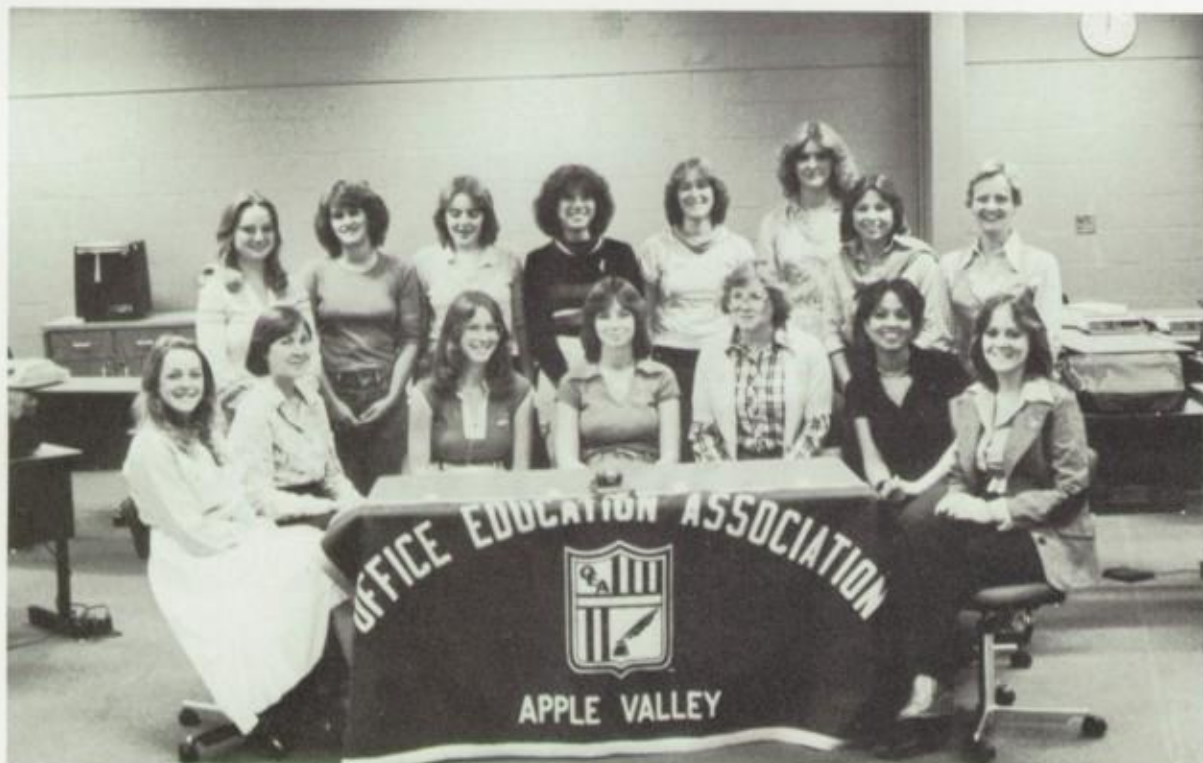

An Experience In Distributive Education

DECA is a club that provides students with experience in retail sales and in business management. It helps students to enter business fields in marketing and distribution. This year, due to changing of advisors, they were not able to participate in conventions of competition but they actively sold candy and "Happening" books. The students definitely profited from their experiences in DECA.

OEA or the Office Education Association is a club that provides its members with valuable experiences in office situations and it educates students in all aspects of office occupations. The members obtain jobs in office fields through this club where they can put their experience to work. This year they did very well in the regional competition and in state competition, Ginger Nielson placed fourth. OEA also was active in raising money through candy and "Happening" book sales. This money was used to sponsor a rock-a-thon to give money to the special olympics for handicapped children. They also sponsored a child overseas. Indeed, OEA had an eventful year.

Student Council

The AVHS Student Council is one of the groups that helps arrange the events of the school year.

Representatives from each class are chosen and the organization sponsors such activities as Homecoming, the free phone for students, and they oversee all dances throughout the school year.

The AVHS debate team had a fantastic season with a young team comprised of mainly freshmen. This team under the guidance of Ms. Rizzoli and the outstanding upperclassmen of the team had an excellent season record, advancing a debate group to the state tournament. Everyone is looking forward to a great season next year.

Seniors

As we took our first step leaving home for the first day of Kindergarten, we were curious, anxious, excited, even scared.

We were starting a new life of learning. Now our basic schooling is done. We are taking another big step into an unknown world, which contains our hopes, and dreams. Again we feel curious, anxious, excited, and scared of this new life placed before us.

Whereever we go, whatever we do, we will take our memories of A.V.H.S. with us.

The winds of the future blow
cool upon my face,
The years heavy laden by books,
and problems of growing,
are all behind me.
Now the path will lie free,
and clear before me,
The wind urges me on as I
race down the path.
With each stride,
I leave behind someone,
who must follow a different tune, and who's strides are different from my own.
But one day we will all be together.
Until then, all that I can say is,
"May the wisdom of the past,
guide us,
May the hands of the present,
protect and enfold us,
And may the winds of the future
push us gently onward."

The caps, and gowns post script the four hard years of high school coming to an end. The Seniors are beginning the road of learning over again, going into a world of unlimited opportunities. They are also facing some harsh realities in achieving their goals. They leave behind many fond memories, but are now setting forth to accept this challenge in finding their own way, in this big world.

Moods

We have seen many moods displayed here at AVHS. As active, spirited, studious, and relaxed students we were always trying to keep going. We participated in all we could, short of breaking from exhaustion. In participating in many activities we found ourselves becoming stronger and more complete individuals.

These students, although individuals, blended with other individuals to form long-lasting bonds friendship, not only in the classroom, but in other activities as well. They responded to the others' moods by reflecting their ideas, for learning needs friends as well as themselves. These strong bonds formed amongst a mass helped to strengthen the individuals.

These strong individuals were an important part of our student body; each of them finding their particular strength in either sports, intelligence, relating to other people, or spiritedness. These strengths helped them define their personalities, and helped them understand themselves better. And in doing this, they helped to strengthen our student body.

Although we tried, we did not always succeed; sometimes we even created a disaster. AVHS is a building. On the outside you see brick walls, and windows; inside, you see books, desks, tables, and chairs. That's all AVHS is. Now put some students in the building, and it becomes a place of learning. These students have a chance, not only to come and go, but to experience. These experiences bring out the moods of the student; and these can lead him to activities and friendships. These add to the strength of the individual. In this strengthening, he better understands himself. Although somewhat exhausted at times, these individuals are then ready, at the end of four years at AVHS, to face the world on their own.
